ABANDON AUTOMOBILES.

Speaker Cannon and Party Arrived at Pittsburgh Last Night.

Pittsburgh, June 4.—Speaker Joseph G. Cannon and his automobile party, including Senator Hemenway of Indiana, Congressman Landis, recognized manager of the Fairbanks presidential campaign, and L. S. Busby, the speaker's private secretary, completed their journey over the mountains today and reached this city.

It is probable that the automobiles will be abandoned here and the speaker and Hemenway hurry to their homes by train, both having received urgent telegrams from political and business associates to hurry to their homes.

LIFE INSURANCE

PAID INTO KENTUCKY AMOUNT-ED TO $6,672,721 IN YEAR.

Paducah Receives $88,800 as Her Share With Two Big Policies Paid.

Louisville, June 4.—Louisville, with its payment of $1,523,500, received about one-quarter of all the life insurance money paid into the state during the year. The total for Kentucky was $6,672,721. It was behind that of Indiana by $1,500,000 and in advance of Wisconsin by one-tenth of a million dollars. With the single exception of Missouri, Kentucky had more insurance money paid into her borders during 1907 than any other southern state. New York leads all the states in this respect with $65,100,000.

Paducah received $88,800, only two policies being over $10,000. Ernest Reikopf, $15,019, and John Shinnott, $10,159. La Center received $2,000; Maxon Mills, $3,000; Murray, $1,250; Benton, $10,000, and Clanton $9,950.

HORSE THROWS PRESIDENT.

Chief Executive Lands in a Creek Near Washington.

Washington, June 3.—President Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt went horseback riding, accompanied only by an orderly. A report became current that when the president attempted to cross the ford at Rocky Creek park his horse reared and that both the horse and the president fell into the stream, which is shallow at that point.

At the white house inquiry was met by laughing denial. It was said that the president was in excellent health and spirits and had enjoyed his ride without accident.

Summer Love

It was not I that dared betray
What none should know save you and me;
The moon beamed from heaven's way
And told the tale to all the sea.

And told the ear blade, water
pearled;
The ear blade told the sailor boy,
Who sang our love to all the

NEW MILITIA LAW.

Washington, June 4.—The new Dick Miltia law passed congress makes many changes in the present laws. The organized militia of the country is increased to 150,000 men, to whose support the government will annually appropriate $2,000,000.

Under the bill whenever the president calls forth the organized militia to be employed in the service of the United States it is provided that he may specify in his call the period for which such service is required and that "the militia so called forth shall continue to serve during the period so specified either with or without the territory of the United States, unless sooner relieved by order of the president," but there is a proviso that "no commissioned officer or enlisted man of the organized militia shall be held to service beyond the term of his existing commission or enlistment."

There is another provision requiring that "when the necessity to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrection or repel invasion cannot be met by the regular forces, the organized militia shall be called forth into service of the United States. In advance of any volunteer force which it may be determined to raise."

Still another important feature of the law is the section which provides that every officer and enlisted man of the militia who shall be called forth in the manner prescribed shall be mustered for service "without further examination or previous to such muster, except for those states and territories which have not adopted the standard of medical examination prescribed for the regular army. In this instance there is a provision requiring that "any officer or enlisted man who shall refuse or neglect to present himself for such muster, upon being called forth as herein prescribed, shall be subject to trial by court-martial and shall be punished as such court-martial shall direct."

The majority membership of such court-martial for the trial of officers or men of the militia who are in the service of the United States must be composed of militia officers.

This is the feature of the bill which was most strongly opposed by John Sharp Williams and some other members of the house.

Daily Thought.

A man cannot be at peace with himself while he lives in disobedience to known truth.—Benjamin Whichcote.

For so weighty an argument, Senator LaFollette's speech against the currency bill had little effect.

A returned missionary at Hopkinsville, after braving the terrors of the jungle, fell a victim to conveniences of modern civilization.

While admiring Governor Cummins, of Iowa, we are glad the veteran Allison was returned to the senate. His party service deserves the honor.

Uncle Joe Cannon and his automobile party got stuck in the mud in Pennsylvania. Uncle Joe has always been considered a statesman of the old school, opposed to new enterprises; but no doubt now Uncle Joe will recall the early interest of the national government in building post roads, and further the progress of the national road building movement.

With Urey Woodson and former Governor Beckham in a hand-to-hand encounter at the Lexington convention for the position of national Democratic committeeman in the presidential campaign, presiding over the destinies of Kentucky's apportionment of the boodle, their friends in the districts of the state will rally in support of a cause they love, and some interest will attach to a convention, which is Bryan, anyway, and otherwise very tame.

POLITICAL AMENITIES.

Those gentlemen of the opposition, who are making campaign capital out of Secretary Taft's memorial address, should reflect that for the Republicans just at this juncture to asperse Grant Grant is safer than to asperse Taft. A campaign of abuse and vilification seldom is effectual in a fight between candidates of opposing parties; but in a campaign for a nomination it is treasonable to the party's interests. It is a sign of weakness to seek pre-emptive solely on comparative freedom from defects. Nominations for president are not made according to superficial political suitability for the candidacy. If they were we should always select a man without a record, so that he could not be attacked; whereas we now choose men with records of public service. The Republican party is not, as some politicians imagine, divided into factions, each seeking to control for the sake of control. It is selecting the man best suited for the presidency of the United States, and before the state and district conventions the various candidates have been trying out their popularity.

The successful one must go before the country and make the fight against a Democratic candidate. If the candidates all during the long ante-convention campaign devote their time and energies to disparaging their adversaries, putting evil construction on their acts and words and belittling their records, the successful candidate must necessarily be weakened in his party by the words, which leading Republicans and leading Republican newspapers have spoken against him, and the Democratic candidate must be armed with weapons from the Republican candidate's own camp.

It was to the interest of the party that every candidate should make the race on his own merit and personal strength. Who led in every section of the union in this contest of popularity, is too plain for comment. If we should choose our candidate, taking the one who spoke his mind most fearlessly and yet held the most discreet tongue and kept his supporters in check, we should choose Taft. Never has a candidate for the nomination been hampered more or irritated more by his adversaries. A cabal in congress did everything possible to injure him, and had not his record for honesty and efficiency been such as it is, he would have been ruined by the searchlights that played over his career. The light only made more plain the fine qualities of the man, and the ease with which he met every trying situation.

Purposely he was hemmed in on three sides by "favorite son" candidates and the most vindictive opposition was offered him in his own state. He never compromised at home. Irresistibly he swept every county, every city and every voting precinct in the state. He kept hands off the other states and permitted the "favorite sons" to win the complimentary votes of their own states; but north, south, east and west, opposition or no opposition, he won, and his strength proved greatest in those states of the north and west, where Republican United States senators and congressmen and governors controlled the patronage, even though they might have been political enemies of the administration.

Is it likely that a man, who had settled the Kilar land troubles in the Philippines, started the Panama canal work on a business basis, calmed Cuba and smiled serenely through the vicious fight against him in the contest, should, in the hour of his triumph with a majority of the delegates pledged to him and assuring him of the loyal support of his candidacy, make a break with his tongue on an occasion that called for nothing more than a "hurrah for the flag" oration?

We are inclined to think that certain press bureaus have not been stopped. They were hired for the campaign, and have not received official information that the fight is over. These spiteful outbursts should be hushed. No one will believe the charges made against Taft by people, whose mouths have been the sources of their own political undoing.

POLITICAL ARCHAEOLGY.

"The historic Democratic party was a firm believer in sound money," says a local paper, which is supporting Bryan for the presidency. "The Federalist party of which the present day Republican party is the successor and bodily heir, stood for inflation and fiat money."

There is a column and a half more of it; but the rest is just as true and accurate as the declaration that the Republican party is the "bodily heir" of the old Federalist party, of which probably not one voter was living when the Republican party came into being. Perhaps, some old Whig notions clung to early Republicans and the party became indoctrinated with certain Whig principles; but the Republican party was created for a purpose, free from the traditional limitations and the narrow views of the first confederation of states, and in that freedom and flexibility, borne up by the purity of its original motives, has met every demand of new conditions and problems. No adjectives of antiquity, excepting such fragments of the fundamental principles of eternal truth as it may have caught up, describe the Republican party of today or yesterday.

In a Minor Key.

Rich is its haunting minor key—
Mooching for things that can never be.

Or things that are lost to the day and sun,
Back in some black oblivion.

It moves on wings from the misty past,
Over its gloom are shadows cast.

It whistles a dirge for ancient days—
Solemnly sad are the tunes it plays.
Its volume rises and falls. It fills
The heart with tremors and doubts and thrills.

It roams the breadth of the sea and earth,
But it never harbors a note of mirth.

O, gray old harper, in wondrous ways,
Your requiem tells of the yesterday—

But that that lives can the tale translate,
Or quote the presage of Life and Fate?

But swing away, in the chimney flue,
Of things that are old and things that are new—

Thill sorrow and suffering seem sublime—
To the very ends of the sands of Time!

CHAPTER IX.

Barred by Bayonets.

Rested by his sea voyage, and glowing with a determination to win his way across the border but with no definite idea as to what method he should pursue, Guy Hillier landed in Montreal. His first effort was to gain what details he could as to the nature of the embargo which had been placed on travelers between the two countries, after which he lost no time in personally studying the habits of the border camps. Long residence in America had lessened the broadness of his A's, and with a little practice his A's were almost those of the average New Yorker.

The meager information he succeeded in gathering was not altogether trustworthy, as he was soon to learn. He had been told that certain Americans, in Canada at the time the line of blue was drawn, were permitted to pass, and thus regain their homes, and on this he based his first ally. There was no trouble whatever in gaining the encampments nor in interviewing the officers in command of that section of the defense. A smart-appearing sentry passed him over to the guardship of a soldier off duty, who conducted him to one of the regulation tents which dotted the hillside back of the line.

On the orderly's presenting his card, a voice from within hailed: "Come in!" and he entered the little house of canvas to find three officers engaged in some game of cards which he did not understand.

"What can I do for you?" the commander inquired, rising from his camp stool and still holding the visitor's card in his hand.

"I am anxious to cross the line," Hillier replied.

The officer laughed and shook his head. "I'm sorry, sir, but we have had as high as 100 applications of this nature in one day, and my orders forbid my acceding to any such request."

"But you pass Americans, do you not?"

Again the officer smiled tolerantly, replying with good nature: "Not under conditions like these. We have no choice in the matter. If you are an American, I thoroughly appreciate your anxiety to go home; but I cannot help you."

"It began to look less easy. 'Is there no way at all?' asked Hillier.

"My dear sir," the officer answered, "the prophet Moses leading his band across the Red sea had an easier trip than you could make through our lines."

For a moment the courier lost patience, and then as a last resort he decided to make a clean breast of his errand. "Colonel," he said, "I am not an American; I am the secretary of the British embassy in Washington—or was up to the time of this war. I come as a special messenger from my country, bearing important dispatches, which I am to deliver only into the hands of his excellency, the president of the United States. The accomplishment of my mission may have a grave bearing on this conflict, and it possibly may prevent bloodshed."

The colonel turned to one side and threw down the playing cards which he had been holding before making any reply. His companions looked highly interested; but their faces gave no hope.

"Mr. Hillier, there have been at least 200 men before me with similar important messages, many of whom have come direct from other foreign powers. The first of these I took from them and sent forward by special couriers of my own. In each case I was given a reprieve. Come here," he said, and preceded Hillier out into the open, where a bulletin board was nailed against a tree. In the very center of a collection of orders posted thereon was one which read:

"General Order No. 27,007: Order No. 16,004, which was delivered to all officers, bulletined and read to all men, permits of no modification whatever. It reads: 'No man shall pass through the lines, either in or out, and under no circumstances shall any communication be passed, either in or out, save on the written permit duly sealed and signed by the president of the United States.'"

"Is that emphatic enough?" he asked, turning to Hillier, who reluctantly admitted that it allowed of no misinterpretation.

"But," said the latter half jokingly, "suppose I make a run for it?"
"In that case, Mr. Hillier," the officer answered gravely, "my men would unhesitatingly drill you full of holes, and I should be sorry to see a man whom I take to be a gentleman make such an attempt. This may look like play; but underneath gloved hands along this border are the claws of war. Don't, please, make me unseath them!"

The secretary, baffled, declined the proffer of a drink, and was promptly escorted back across the Canadian lines; but on the way he made new plans. He was only rebuffed by his first failure, and with doggedness he set his jaws and swore that by some means or other he would go to Washington. Time was becoming more and more valuable, so much of it had been expended in his first inquiries and overtures. He would now be driven to stealth and disguise.

He returned to the city, bought a shabby suit of clothes from a second-hand dealer, checked his luggage in the hotel, put the precious dispatches in a pocket within his shirt, and called for an automobile. The machine carried him rapidly down a well-rolled road till night fell, when he paid the chauffeur, and as an additional precaution for the sake of secrecy walked ahead till satisfied that he had put many miles between himself and anyone who might have observed his coming.

He had seen enough during the day to be convinced that under ordinary circumstances it would be impossible to pass the sentries, whose hearts were exceptionally short, and who formed almost a continuous line as far as he had been able to observe. His inquiries had elicited the information that somewhere in the vicinity a small river flowed between the two countries, and he purposed using this tributary of the St. Lawrence as a means to gain the other country. His plan was rendered more tenable because the moon, being in the full, favored him. The night itself seemed most propitious, as from the west a dark bank of clouds was slowly coming forward, promising to lend obscurity at a time when it should be most needed. PADUCAH RETAINS on all sides, about this federation meeting. Mrs. Riker was pleased with the attendance and thought it large considering the competition of the general federation in Boston, which many Kentucky club women will attend.

Great business and social exertions Wednesday did not prevent a large attendance at this morning's session at 10 o'clock. The Rev. W. E. Cave, pastor for the First Presbyterian church, opened the session with prayer. Mrs. Riker announced that the presidents of the Illinois and Missouri state federations had sent telegrams of greetings to the Kentucky federation. The council of Jewish women in Louisville also sent greetings and a letter from Mrs. Emma Perkins, an ex-federation president, who is in Europe, was read.

Four committees of the state federation reported this morning, the library extension, traveling library, civic, pure food. Mrs. Morris Barrett, of Lawrenceburg, chairman of the library extension committee, reported that libraries all over the state have been improved, some built and interest in others greatly increased by her committee. Allied with the library extension work is the traveling library, whose work for the year was reported by the chairman, Miss Fannie C. Rawson. The federation gave Miss Rawson a rising vote of thanks for her excellent work and at the conclusion of her report, the Rev. J. R. Henry, pastor of the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church, expressed his good opinion of the quality of work being done by the federation. The traveling libraries have been vastly enlarged this year.

Mrs. Lafon Riker, of Harrodsburg, read the report of the civics committee for Mrs. T. J. Smith, who could not be present. The report advised the enlistment of the children in the work of sanitation and beautification in municipalities. This committee's work is evident in every town in the state, where they have attempted improvement. Mrs. C. P. Weaver, of Louisville, had placards of statistics to illustrate her report from the subcommittee of civics on health, which showed Kentucky to be low in the scale of states that are spending money to prevent disease. Miss Lillian Lloyd, of Louisville, chairman of the pure food committee reported great activity by the state authorities in enforcing the laws.

Miss Elizabeth Sinnott in the last report of the credentials committee, said that 103 visitors are present, 82 of whom are delegates, 3 state officers and 8 chairmen.

Constitution Amended.

During the balloting for officers, the committee on amending the constitution reported, changing Article 6, so that clubs with 30 members or less shall pay $3 a year to the state federation, and clubs with over 30 members, ten cents per capita. This will increase the cost to the large clubs. Philanthropic clubs will be admitted on the basis of small clubs. In the discretion of the executive board.

Three subjects on Wednesday's program were given this morning. The report of the auditor was accepted, as was the treasurer's report, which was given yesterday. Miss Anna Webb read the report of the arts and crafts committee in the absence of Mrs. J. R. Morton, of Louisville. This committee's work is to restore handicraft to rural homes, from which modern machinery has operated to remove it. Mrs. John Wirt Dinsmore, of Berea college, addressed the meeting on "Fireside Industries," illustrating her talk with coverlets, homespun cloth and baskets, made in the mountains of Kentucky by women. They were beautiful examples of the art. In this connection, Mrs. Riker read a personal letter from Governor A. E. Willson, in which he encouraged the work and promised to give it his support.

Thank the Press.

Mrs. Edmund Post, of the press committee, moved and it was unanimously agreed to, to thank the local press for their reports of the meeting. Mrs. Post will not lie as active in Paducah club work next year as formerly, owing to visits she will make in Virginia and New York. She was largely responsible for bringing Judge Willis Brown, of Salt Lake City, here winter before last, whose lecture on juvenile courts was a notable event.

Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells, president of the Matinee Musical club, probably will have her work extended to include the whole state. A new department to the federation will not be created, but it is desired that music be treated from a state-wide viewpoint.

Schmans Bros. furnished all the palms and potted plants used in the club building, and Branson decorated the dining room for the luncheon yesterday. Post cards of Paducah were furnished free to the delegates.

Miss Hattie Hisey, chairman of the committee on ushers and pages, announced the names of the persons to serve today: Thursday morning, Misses Faith Langstaff, Caroline Sowell and Philippa Hughes, ushers; Misses Jean Morris and Helen Hills, pages. Thursday afternoon, Misses Hanchie Hills, Lillie Mae Winkstead, Della Coleman and Ethel Brooks, ushers; Misses Julia Dabney and Ellen Roswell, pages. Thursday evening, at Wallace park, Misses Lila Reed, Clara Park and Mary Scott, ushers.

This Afternoon.

Miss Luella Boyd, of Covington, first vice-president, is presiding over this afternoon's session, which began at 2:30 o'clock. It is customary for the president to vacate for one session in favor of the first vice-president. Mrs. Lecher Riker has made a splendid presiding officer, and Miss Lillian Lindsey, as recording secretary, and Miss Haldon Hardin, as corresponding secretary, have given entire satisfaction. All committees that have not reported will do so this afternoon.

Wednesday Evening.

Strenuous, the word made famous by President Roosevelt, is the only one that will adequately describe Wednesday's program of the state federation. Starting with a business session at 10:30 o'clock, few breath-taking spells were found in the whole day, until nearly midnight, when the second reception was ended.

After the morning business session, which closed at 12:45 o'clock, luncheon was served in the club building and the afternoon session began at 2:15 o'clock in the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church. Mr. E. N. Copper, of the national child labor committee, made a short and comprehensive address on the importance of supporting the Kentucky child labor law, whose enemies are working to have certain vital paragraphs repealed in 1910. He recommended that the chairman of local committees send lists of names of men and women in their communities who are interested in alleviating the conditions he described, to Mrs. E. P. Weaver, of Louisville, who will turn them over to the Kentucky Child Labor association. This association will communicate with the persons whose names are sent in. Mr. Copper said that there is an economic advantage to the community where child labor is prohibited, over communities where it is permitted.

Club Reports.

Remarkable evidence of woman's self-possession in public was shown in the two minute reports from the individual clubs, that followed Mr. Copper's address. Not a single one of the numerous club reporters faltered on the stage, while the poised and diction of some were highly creditable. As a group, the six Paducah women, who reported from the local clubs, Mrs. Lillie Hicks, Alumni association, Mrs. Mildred Davis, Telephone club, Mrs. Hubbard Wells, Matinee Musical club, Miss Anna Webb, Magazine club, Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, Kalamazoo club, and Mrs. James A. Italy, the Woman's club, easily ranked among the best speakers. Mrs. Italy, as head of the Paducah clubs in entertaining the federation, was applauded vigorously. Her report showed that the Paducah Woman's club handled over $5,000 last year, and no city in the state has clubs that have attempted more ambitious programs than Paducah.

A bird's eye view of the work attempted by Kentucky clubs was gotten in the reports yesterday afternoon. It showed them active in a wide variety of literary, artistic, civic, economic, social and philanthropic lines. Lawrenceburg club women have been made members of the commercial club of that town, and recognition of the "hoisting" value of women's clubs has been given in other ways in nearly all cities. Several reports were read for delegates who were unable to attend. Notable among these was that of Mrs. Juliet R. Becknap, of Louisville, who wrote her report on a sick bed, and which was read yesterday. The report dealt with the work of the woman's auxiliary of the Kentucky Humane society and indicated that greater interest in this humanitarian subject is evident throughout the state. Nearly three hours were consumed in giving the club reports, under the direction of Miss Haldon Hardin, corresponding secretary. The attendance was good to the end, but several numbers on the program were postponed at 5:15 o'clock until today, to give the dele-

The Entertainment.

Continuing Wednesday's strenuous program, the delegates and Paducah club women left the wharfboat at 7:10 o'clock for a river ride on the fast steamer Dick Fowler, under the personal charge of Mr. Saunders Fowler and Captain Mark Cole. The sky cleared perceptibly before the boat left and over a hundred guests enjoyed one of the most unique social entertainments the federation has ever known, and from expressions of these aboard, an entertainment that will stand out among all the memorable functions of this meeting. Music was furnished by the steamer orchestra, while the guests scattered over the handsome steamer, to be served with tea and cakes wherever they happened to sit down. After going several miles up the Tennessee river, the boat turned around and went down the Ohio river past Paducah, thus affording the guests a ride on both rivers. Much regret was expressed at the enforced brevity of the trip, when the boat landed at the wharfboat at 8:10 o'clock. Mrs. Edmund Post, third vice-president of the federation, Mrs. Mildred Davis and Miss Mattie Fowler were the hostesses of the river trip.

Toll-free were again made for the second of Wednesday evening's entertainment at the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church at 9 o'clock, when local talent gave a recital of ten numbers. Mesdames George Hart, James Wellie and Lela Wade Lewis, Misses Anne Bradshaw, Lila Reed, Mamie O'Brien, Mayme Dreyfuss and Messrs. Richard Scott and William Dent participated. The weather was quiet and a large audience, elegantly gown, filled the church. The reception by the Matinee Musical club followed at the Woman's club building at 10 o'clock.

Many delegates and local club women, who were kept away from Tuesday evening's opening reception by the rain, attended this reception, making it, if possible, more brilliant than that function. In the receiving line were the officers of the Matinee Musical club, the presidents of the federated clubs in this city and the federation officers. Downstairs the active members of the Matinee Musical club helped to entertain while the associate members had charge upstairs.

Cut flowers and potted plants were distributed artistically over the building. Punch was served on the back porch by Misses Albie Hugley, Mayme Dreyfuss, Anne Bradshaw, Lila Reed and Mary Scott. Tea and cake were served in the dining room, the club colors of violet and gold prevailing in the designs. On the cakes, various musical instruments were traced. New arrivals for the meeting yesterday were: Mrs. Ora L. Adams, Harrodsburg; Mrs. David Johnson, Clinton; Mrs. W. P. Phillips, Louisville; Mrs. Frank Beckham Powers, Lawrenceburg; Mrs. L. E. Rice, Danville; Mrs. John L. Gray, Smithland; Mrs. J. L. Woodbury, Louisville; Mrs. John Durham, Franklin; Mrs. R. E. Holsby, Fulton; Mrs. W. L. R. Reynolds, Mrs. W. W. Morris, Fulton; Mrs. H. W. Houghton, Hoston.

Commissioner's Sale.

In pursuance of a judgment of McCracken Circuit Court, rendered at its April term, 1908, in the action of M. H. Sublette, plaintiff, against E. W. Vaughan, administrator, etc., defendant, I will, on Monday, June 8th (about the hour of 10 o'clock a. m.), 1908 (being County Court day), at the Court House door in Paducah, Kentucky, sell to the highest bidder, on credit of six (6) months, the following described property, viz:

The following described property situated in the city of Paducah, McCracken county, Kentucky, described as follows:
First tract—Beginning at a pole on the west side of Harrison street 120 feet from Glard street; thence out from the river 50 feet, thence at right angles towards Clay street 173 feet 3 inches; thence at right angles toward the Ohio river 50 feet; thence at right angles 173 feet and 3 inches to the beginning point on Harrison street, same being in block 5 in B. Q. Woodfolk's addition to the city of Paducah, and being the same property in all respects conveyed by Mrs. M. C. Vaughan, now deceased, by T. U. Leach and his wife, Agnes Leach, on the 12th day of April, 1906, and recorded in deed book 81, page 237, in the McCracken County Court Clerk's office.

Second tract—Being lot No. 3 in block No. 5, addition 1 to the city of Paducah, Kentucky, said lot beginning at a point on Harrison street 170 feet from the northwest corner of Harrison and Twelfth streets; thence in a westerly direction towards Thirteenth street, and with the line of Harrison street 50 feet, thence at right angles and towards Clay street 173 feet and 3 inches, thence at right angles towards Twelfth street 50 feet, thence at right angles 173 feet 3 inches to the point of beginning on Harrison street, being the same lot or parcel of ground in all respects conveyed by H. C. Vaughan and Pauline Vaughan and E. W. Vaughan and Mildred Vernon and her husband, George C. Vernon, to Mrs. M. C. Vaughan by their deed dated March 15th, 1906, and recorded in deed book 81, page 154, McCracken County Court Clerk's office.

I will offer for sale the first tract to satisfy a debt of $1,000.00 with interest from May 11, 1908, and the costs of this action, and if said property shall not sell for enough to satisfy said debt, interest and cost, then I will sell the second tract above described.

The purchaser will be required to give bond with approved security, bearing interest at 5 per cent, from day of sale, having force of replevin bond, on which execution may issue when due.

This 23d day of May, 1908.

This woman says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved her life. Read her letter.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words. For years I suffered with the worst forms of female complaint, continually doctoring and spending lots of money for medicine without help. I wrote you for advice, followed it as directed, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has restored me to perfect health. Had it not been for you I should have been in my grave to-day. I wish every suffering woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

HOPELESSLY SPLIT.

On Mormon Question Is Idaho Democratic Party.

Two Falls, Idaho, June 4.—The Democratic party of Idaho is hopelessly split on the Mormon question. Amid the wildest scenes ever witnessed at a convention in this state, two conventions were held in the same hall. Both claim to be regular and a contest before the national committee at Denver is certain.

The anti-Mormon faction is led by former Senator Dubois and the other by K. I. Perky. The latter elected delegates favorable to Bryan.

Confessed Night Rider.

Columbus, O., June 4.—A young farmer near Ripley, O., has confessed to the recent service men under State Police Marshal Creamer, that he has been a member of the night riders who have come over from Kentucky and destroyed the leads of tobacco growers on the Ohio side. This farmer has thus far refused to give any names of Ohio night riders but the state fire marshal has found out enough to take steps for the arrest of some Ohio men. He says he expects Deputy Fire Marshal Ambrose of Cincinnati, to make some arrests at once.

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

Murdered Man Found at Home.

Jackson, Ky., June 4.—Jefferson Davis has been released from prison here. He was accused of having murdered Leek Tolson by smothering him on the hat and sending Tolson into the river, drowning him. Davis came to jail unwillingly, declaring that Tolson would never stay under water for any length of time. Tolson was found at his home with a black eye, and Davis was released.

Dummers Warned.

Emineh, Ky., June 4.—"Toll all the damn dummers to cut out tobacco, or there will be hell to pay. We ain't a going to look for no more beds, but will wait till they grow it and burn the damn barns. They can't starve out our children."

"N. R."

This notice tacked firmly to the front doors of several of the most prominent stores in Sulphur, in the lower end of Henry county, on the Cincinnati division of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, was the only card left within the town limits to notify the residents of visitors who had been there.

Governor Stays at Capital.

Frankfort, Ky., June 4.—Governor and Mrs. Willson are now well settled in the executive mansion, and the governor declares that he expects to remain in Frankfort all summer. "It is one of the best summer resorts I know of," he said the other day, "and I expect to find plenty of recreation when needed, on the golf links at the Country club. Mrs. William Eakin, of Indianapolis, sister-in-law of Mrs. Willson, is the guest of Governor and Mrs. Willson at the mansion."

Governor Willson journeyed to Lexington by trolley to attend a meeting of the board of trustees of State University. As usual, in making short trips from the capital, he took with him the records of the Powers case to study en route.

Friend of the Family—"Well, Bobby, how is your sister progressing in her piano playing? Is she improving?"

Bobby—"I guess she's either improving or we're getting used to it. I don't know which!"—Brooklyn Life.

NEWS OF COURTS

Circuit Court.
No new business is being taken up on the equity docket by Judge Reed now except in cases where agreed orders can be made and the remainder of the week will be largely consumed in completing records in cases already decided.

An appeal was granted the defendant in the suit of Parrish against Acree.

A bill of exceptions and evidence was tendered in the suit of J. L. Jones against the city of Paducah. The case will be appealed.

Motions and reasons for a new trial were filed by the city of Paducah in the suit brought for back taxes by Auditor's Agent Lucas. The case was decided against the city and will be appealed.

In County Court.

The last will and testament of Mrs. Ida Wilson was offered for probate in the county court. All property, personal and real, is divided equally between her two daughters, Vera and Minnie Wilson, with the stipulation that should both die without issue, the property is to go to John Rupertus, a brother of the testator. Mr. Rupertus is made executor of the will and guardian of the children.

Marriage Licenses.

Hugh Koonce, 21 years old, and Miss Alice O'Neal, 16 years old, both of Marion, Ill., secured a marriage license from the county clerk today.

County Taxes.

Sheriff John W. Ogilvie and his deputies will begin the collection of county taxes next Tuesday, and all owners of property in the county will have until October 1 to pay before the penalty is added. About all the bills have been made out, but the collection will not begin until the middle of June.

To Enforce Judgment.

An action was filed in circuit court by Mrs. Eva Whitney against the R. A. Robinson estate to enforce a judgment for $162.25, the amount of a verdict she recovered at this term of court. An attachment is prayed for against property of the defendant on the ground that the administrator of the estate was about to send personal property valued at $2,000 out of the state.

In the Police Court.

The docket in police court this morning was: Drunk—Ed Ware, $1 and costs. Breach of peace—Woody Williams, colored, continued until tomorrow; John Nicholson, $15 and costs; Mrs. Katie Girard, C. McKinney, Warren Baker, $15 and costs. Grand larceny—Charles Lowe, colored, continued until tomorrow. Malicious cutting—Kate Hughes, alias Minnie Witherspoon, continued until tomorrow. Drunk—Walter Buckner, colored, dismissed.

CHIEF CLERK RAISED IN RANK.

Schofield Appointed Assistant of War Department.

Washington, June 4.—John C. Schofield was appointed assistant and chief clerk of the war department.

Schofield has for some time been chief clerk of the war department.

The new title, adding the word "Assistant," created by congress, is interpreted as adding an additional secretary of war, and relieving the situation which has been found embarrassing, whenever, in the absence of both the secretary and assistant secretary, it is necessary for the ranking army officer on duty in the department, to act in the capacity of secretary.

Schofield entered the war department as a clerk twenty-four years ago.

TO CURB LOOSE TONGUES.

New York Preacher to Repent Gossip With Names of Gossipers.

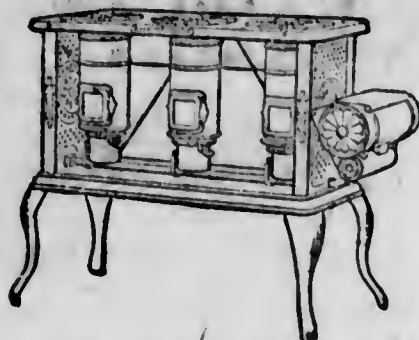

Titlen, N. Y., June 4.—The Rev. Henry Macbray, who for several years has been the pastor of a Little Falls church, told his congregation last evening that he was going to curb the gossipers who live in the town.

He was of the opinion that in Little Falls there are just twelve fountain heads of gossip, and he said that these twelve might well be matched against all the other gossipers of the country, they having the qualities and facilities amounting to genius in gossip, and at least they would win prizes in a contest. In order to curb loose tongues Mr. Macbray announced that he had decided to set apart one Sunday of the month to squelching gossipers.

He will on that day recite the gossip, without the names of the victims but with the names of the gossipers. In this way the public will become acquainted with the twelve gossipers' names, and some who are not far behind.

TELLS HARD LUCK STORY TO POLICE

Woman Dressed in Man's Apparel in Company of Hobo's

Mrs. Kate Girard Says Her Husband Abused Her and She Was on Way to Chgo.

SHE IS ARRESTED IN THIS CITY

Dressed as a man and waiting for a freight train with three men, Mrs. Kate Girard was arrested last night south of the Union station by Patrolmen Kirk, of the Illinois Central force, and Patrolmen Rousch and Bryant. In appearance she resembles a young man, but her voice betrayed her. When found she wore a soft crushed hat, a cheap coat and shirt, a pair of overalls and a pair of white tennis shoes. She told the patrolmen her story of hard luck, which has not been contradicted. With her were C. McKenzie, Warren Baker and John Nicholson, who were arrested on a charge of loitering around the station.

In appearance Mrs. Girard would pass for a young man with her sun-tanned face, blue eyes and bold nose. Her light hair is clipped close, but a part in the middle may be seen from under her hat. She is about five feet four inches tall, and weighs 125 pounds. This morning in police court she wore a corset cap, but was dressed in a new dress. She is calm and answers all questions readily.

Mrs. Girard says her home is in Cincinnati, but two years ago her parents died and she was married to Elias Girard, who lived near Evansville. They farmed last summer and cleared about $1,000. Their home life was happy, and preparations were made for this year's crop when the high water covered their farm and they went to the city. Girard began drinking, and Kate said he made life so miserable that she packed her household goods and taking what money she could find left for Mount City, Ill. Her brother, Thomas Peck, worked in a saw mill, but Mrs. Girard could not find work there, and becoming discouraged, wanted to return to Cincinnati to her brother, John Peck, borrowing $6 from her brother, she repacked her household goods and shipped them to Cincinnati. Her purse was empty and being unable to get more aid, she decided to hobo her way to the Queen City.

Old men's clothes were borrowed from a neighbor, and at Mount City she met McKenzie, who was going to Louisville. At Water Valley she found her long hair was difficult to keep under her hat and had a negro woman to cut it off. She put it in her pocket and regards it as a treasure. Paducah was reached early Tuesday morning, and since then she has been walking over the city.

Last night she and McKenzie went to the Union station, where they met Warren Baker, of Memphis, and John Nicholson, a 16-year-old Paducah boy. Several cans of beer had been drunk when Patrolman Kirk received a tip she was a woman. Quietly advancing Mr. Kirk played hobo, and after learning their intentions called Patrolmen Bryant and Rousch from their hiding places and the bunch was nabbed.

This morning in court McKenzie admitted he knew his companion was a woman, but the other boys did not know Mrs. Girard. When arrested the men cursed and abused the patrolmen and were fined $15 and costs this morning in police court.

HANDICAPPED BY HIGH SCHOOL '08

Proves Great Success and Highly Entertaining.

Large Attendance at Performance in High School Auditorium Last Night.

THE CAST OF CHARACTERS.

Threatening weather did not prevent a large attendance at the presentation of "Handicapped," the senior class play, last night at the High school auditorium. It was the first play ever given on class night, and the innovation proved most acceptable to the large audience. The seniors have rehearsed faithfully on their play and their reward comes in the statement that it was the best play ever given at the High school. The play is really a high school production as it has been so altered and improved that the original play is another story. Closely woven into the play are delightful musical features and local jokes that all can understand only add to the enjoyment of the play.

The scene is laid at the Summerville academy for young ladies, and during the absence of Mrs. Lawton, the principal, the girls have a frolic during her absence. Teddy Thurston, a youth given to racing, and the Rev. Theophilus Stages, a new professor, arrive at the academy. The old confusion of an exchange of coats comes in brightened up, and Teddy is introduced as the professor, and Dr. Stages as the young man. The light plot of the play is carried merrily on, and the restoring of order once more in the academy brings out much fun.

Miss Helen Hills as Mrs. Plinks, the teacher who had seen younger days, was most satisfactory to the audience. Her constant hope of a man brought many bright lines into the play. Mr. Edwin Hanks as the Rev. Theophilus Stages, a badly frightened young professor, came in for applause for his good work. His appearance on the stage was a signal for mirth. Miss Eunice Robertson played the part of Mrs. Lawton, the principal, with dignity and self-control. Teddy Thurston, the young man with a view of life in a light vein, was in especially hands by Gus Elliott, and he made a dashing young lover. Will Rock assumed the role of Tom, the janitor, and made much out of a minor part. Ethel Sights and Margaret Schwab as Roberta and Georgiana, the twins, were as mischievous as twins are supposed to be. Miss Sadie Smith and Miss Della Lane as May and Nellie Lawton, were refreshing in their work and their lines.

Of the musical numbers, the duets of Miss Hoss Lane and Gus Elliott in "I'd Like to Rock You in My Heart," was greeted with merited applause. Miss Helen Hills sang "What the Rose Said," with humorous effect. Miss Ethel Sights sang "Cuddles Phil," a clever little song with one stanza relating to the High school. "The Girls of P. H. S." was sung by Edwin Hanks with the chorus. "Under the Tropical Moon" was a good song for Will Rock and with his dance was greatly enjoyed. The school girl chorus sang "I Can't Do That Sam," and the closing chorus was "I Want to Go Back."

The play was staged and rehearsed under the direction of Miss Anna Bird Stewart, and the ease with which the young actors distinguished themselves was due largely to Miss Stewart's teaching. Miss Adah L. Brazelton had supervision of the musical numbers and the songs which lent much for the success of the play.

MANUEL WEINSTOCK

DIES OF BLADDER TROUBLE AT HOME OF DAUGHTER.

Former Business Man of Louisville Comes to Paducah But Fails of Relief.

Paducah did not afford the relief Mr. Manuel Weinstock, of Centerville, Ill., expected, for he died last night at 10:10 o'clock at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Michael, Fourth and Ohio streets, from bladder trouble, after having been here only a week. Mr. Weinstock was 60 years old and was born in Philadelphia. When young, he moved with his parents to Louisville, where he was in business for many years until 1902, when he went to Centerville, Ill. He is survived by four sons and two daughters, Messrs. Alexander, William and Samuel Weinstock, of Louisville, and Charles Weinstock, of Centerville, and Mrs. Benjamin Michael and Mrs. Jennie Weinstock, of Paducah. Two brothers, Messrs. Harrison and Abe Weinstock, also survive him. The body will be taken to Louisville for burial. Mr. Weinstock had many friends in Paducah and other cities where he had lived.

SKIN DISEASES

CAUSED BY HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

The skin is provided with countless pores and glands, through which an evaporation is going on continually, day and night. This is nature's method of regulating the temperature of our bodies, and preserving the natural appearance of the skin. These pores and glands are connected with tiny veins and arteries through which they receive, from the blood, the necessary nourishment and strength to preserve their healthy condition, and enable them to perform this duty.

So long as the blood is pure and rich the skin will be free from eruption or disease, but when the circulation becomes infected with acids and humors its nourishing and healthful properties are lost. Its acid, humor-laden condition causes irritation and inflammation of the delicate tissues and fibres of the pores and glands, and the effect is shown in Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, or some other distressing, disfiguring skin disease.

These humors get into the blood through a deranged or inactive condition of the system. Those members whose duty it is to collect and expel the refuse matter of the body fail to properly do their work, and this surplus or waste matter is left in the system to sour and ferment and be absorbed into the blood. There are also certain other humors which get into the blood from without. The juice or milk from poisonous plants, such as poison oak, poison ivy, nettle rash, etc., enters through the open pores of the skin and takes root in the blood. This causes a breaking out which remains for a time and then disappears, but returns at certain seasons of each year.

The cause of all skin troubles can be traced to some kind of humor in the blood. Smooth, healthy skins are only possible where the circulation is pure; and therefore the cure of any skin affection can only come through a thorough cleansing of this vital fluid. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., are valuable only for their ability to keep the skin clean, allay the itching, and tend to reduce inflammation; they cannot correct the trouble because they do not reach the blood.

S. S. S. cures skin diseases of every character and kind, because it purifies the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors that are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acid blood, and completely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, and all eruptions and diseases of the skin. When S. S. S. has driven the humor from the blood, and cooled and cleansed the acid-heated circulation, every symptom passes away, the skin is again nourished with rich, healthful blood, and comfort is given to disease-tortured skins.

Special book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores.

TELLS HARD LUCK STORY TO POLICE

Woman Dressed in Man's Apparel in Company of Hobo's

Mrs. Kate Girard Says Her Husband Abused Her and She Was on Way to Chgo.

SHE IS ARRESTED IN THIS CITY

Dressed as a man and waiting for a freight train with three men, Mrs. Kate Girard was arrested last night south of the Union station by Patrolmen Kirk, of the Illinois Central force, and Patrolmen Rouse and Bryant. In appearance she resembles a young man, but her voice betrayed her. When found she wore a soft crushed hat, a cheap coat and shirt, a pair of overalls and a pair of white tennis shoes. She told the patrolmen her story of hard luck, which has not been contradicted. With her were C. In appearance Mrs. Girard would pass for a young man with her sun-tanned face, blue eyes and bold nose. Her light hair is clipped close, but a part in the middle may be seen from under her hat. She is about five feet four inches tall, and weighs 135 pounds. This morning in police court she wore a corduroy cap, but was dressed in a new dress. She is calm and answers all questions readily.

Mrs. Girard says her home is in Cincinnati, but two years ago her parents died and she was married to Elias Girard, who lived near Evansville. They farmed last summer and cleared about $1,000. Their home life was happy, and preparations were made for this year's crop, when the high water covered their farm and they went to the city. Her brother, Thomas Pelcher, worked in a saw mill, but Mrs. Girard could not find work there, and becoming discouraged, wanted to return to Cincinnati to her brother, John Pelcher. Borrowing $6 from her brother, she repacked her household goods and shipped them to Cincinnati. Her purse was empty and being unable to get more aid, she decided to hobo her way to the Queen City.

Old men's clothes were borrowed from a neighbor, and at Mount City she met McKenzie, who was going to Louisville. At Water Valley she found her long hair was difficult to keep under her hat and had a negro woman to cut it off. She put it in her pocket and regarded it as a treasure. Paducah was reached early Tuesday morning, and since then she has been walking over the city. Last night she and McKenzie went to the Union station, where they met Warren Baker, of Memphis, and John Nicholson, a 16-year-old Paducah boy. Several cans of beer had been drunk when Patrolmen Rouse and Bryant learned their intentions, called Patrolmen Bryant and Rouse from their hiding places and the bunch was nabbed.

This morning in court McKenzie admitted he knew his companion was a woman, but the two other boys did not know Mrs. Girard. When arrested the men cursed and abused the patrolmen and were fined $15 and costs this morning in police court.

THE CAST OF CHARACTERS.

Threatening weather did not prevent a large attendance at the presentation of "Handicapped," the new play ever given on class night, and the production proved most acceptable to the large audience. The scenes have received enthusiastically on their play and their reward comes in the statement that it was the best play ever given at the high school. The play is really a high school production as it has been so altered and improved that the original play is another story. Closely woven into the play are delightful musical features and local jokes that all can understand only add to the enjoyment of the play.

The scene is laid at the Summerville academy for young ladies, and during the absence of Mrs. Lawton, the principal, the girls have a frolic. During her absence, Teddy Thurston, a youth given to racing, and the Rev. Theophilus Stiggs, a new professor, arrive at the academy. The old confusion of an exchange of coats comes in brightened up, and Teddy is introduced as the professor, and Dr. Stiggs as the young man. The light of the play is carried merrily on, and the restoring of order once more in the academy brings out much fun.

Miss Helen Hills as Miss Finks, the teacher who had seen younger days, was most satisfactory to the audience. Her costume hops of a man brought many bright lines into the play. Mr. Edwin Randle as the Rev. Theophilus Stiggs, a badly frightened young professor, came in for applause for his good work. His appearance on the stage was a signal for mirth. Miss Eunice Robertson played the part of Mrs. Lawton, the principal, with dignity and self-control. Teddy Thurston, the young man with a view of life in a light vein, was in capable hands by Gus Elliott, and he made a dashing young lover. Will Rock assumed the role of Tom, the janitor, and made much out of a minor part. Ethel Segits and Margaret Schwab as Roberta and Georgiana, the twins, were as mischievous as twins are supposed to be. Miss Sadie Smith and Miss Rose Lane as May and Nellie Lawton were refreshing in their work and their lines.

Of the musical numbers, the duets of Miss Helen Lane and Gus Elliott in "I'd Like to Rock You in My Heart," was greeted with merited applause. Miss Helen Hills sang "What the Rose Said," with humorous effect. Miss Ethel Segits sang "Cupid, Phil," a clever little song with one stanza relating to the high school. "The Girl of P. H. S." was sung by Edwin Randle with the chorus. "Under the Tropic Moon" was a good song for Will Rock and with his dance was greatly enjoyed. The school girl chorus sang "I Can't Do That Sam," and the closing chorus was "I Want to Go Back."

The play was staged and rehearsed under the direction of Miss Anna Bird Stewart, and the ease with which the young actors distinguished themselves was due largely to Miss Stewart's guidance. Miss Adah L. Brazelton had supervision of the musical numbers and the songs which lent much for the success of the play.

MANUEL WEINSTOCK

DIES OF BLADDER TROUBLE AT HOME OF DAUGHTER.

Former Business Man of Louisville Comes to Paducah But Finds of Relief.

Paducah did not afford the relief Mr. Manuel Weinstock, of Centralia, Ill., expected, for he died last night at 10:10 o'clock at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Michael, Fourth and Ohio streets, from bladder trouble, after having been here only a week. Mr. Weinstock was 60 years old and was born in Philadelphia. When young, he moved with his parents to Louisville, where he was in business for many years until 1903, when he went to Centralia, Ill.

He is survived by four sons and two daughters, Messrs. Alexander, William and Samuel Weinstock, of Louisville, and Charles Weinstock, of Centralia, and Mrs. Benjamin Michael and Mrs. Jennie Weinstock, of Paducah. Two brothers, Messrs. Harmon and Abe Weinstock, also survive him. The body will be taken to Louisville for burial. Mr. Weinstock had many friends in Paducah and other cities where he had lived.

SKIN DISEASES CAUSED BY HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

The skin is provided with countless pores and glands, through which an evaporation is going on continually, day and night. This is nature's method of regulating the temperature of our bodies, and preserving the natural appearance of the skin. These pores and glands are connected with tiny veins and arteries through which they receive, from the blood, the necessary nourishment and strength to preserve their healthy condition, and enable them to perform this duty.

So long as the blood is pure and rich the skin will be free from eruption or disease, but when the circulation becomes infected with acids and humors its nourishing and healthful properties are lost. Its acid, humor-baden condition causes irritation and inflammation of the delicate tissues and fibres of the pores and glands, and the effect is shown in Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, or some other distressing, disfiguring skin disease.

These humors get into the blood through a deranged or inactive condition of the system. Those members whose duty it is to collect and expel the refuse matter of the body fail to properly do their work, and this surplus or waste matter is left in the system to sour and ferment and be absorbed into the blood. There are also certain other humors which get into the blood from without. The juice or milk from poisonous plants, such as poison oak, poison ivy, nettle rash, etc., enters through the open pores of the skin and takes root in the blood. This causes a breaking out which remains for a time and then disappears, but returns at certain seasons of each year.

The cause of all skin troubles can be traced to some kind of humor in the blood. Smooth, healthy skins are only possible where the circulation is pure; and therefore the cure of any skin affection can only come through a thorough cleansing of this vital fluid. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., are valuable only for their ability to keep the skin clean, allay the itching, and tend to reduce inflammation; they cannot correct the trouble because they do not reach the blood.

S. S. S. cures skin diseases of every character and kind, because it purifies the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors that are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acid blood, and completely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, and all eruptions and diseases of the skin. When S. S. S. has driven the humor from the blood, and cooled and cleansed the acid-heated circulation, every symptom passes away, the skin is again nourished with rich, healthful blood, and comfort is given to disease-tortured skins.

VICTORY FOR GOVERNMENT

Sweeping Decision in First Whiskey Test Case.

Handed Down By District of Columbia Court—Legal Backing for the Pure Food Regulations.

TO BE STRICTLY ENFORCED

Washington, June 4.—The court of appeals, the highest court of the District of Columbia, handed down a sweeping decision in the first "what is whiskey" test case, which practically sustains every contention of the government in its pending cases on that subject under the pure food law.

Although the decision was delivered in a case which was brought up to the court a few months ago, under the provisions of the trade-mark act, it covers substantially every point of the two whiskey test cases instituted by the department of justice in Washington and Baltimore respectively, the former being against the James Clark Distilling company for mislabeling as whiskey a mixture of neutral spirits and whiskey, and the latter against a Baltimore house for labeling neutral spirits made from molasses in Louisiana as "Bourbon whiskey."

The case decided came up to the court through litigation between private parties, it has resulted in judicial dictum, for the first time in the United States, on the much-mooted question of what constitutes genuine whiskey on the one hand, and its imitations and adulterations on the other.

Victory for the Government.

The decision, comprehending as it does, in its broad scope, nearly every point which has been thrown into issue on the labeling of whiskey under the pure food law, is an overwhelming victory for the rulings of President Roosevelt and Attorney General Bonaparte, which the positions in advocacy of which Dr. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, is perhaps now best known about the country, and gives legal backing, as it were, to the regulations governing the branding of whiskey by internal revenue agents which Secretary Cortelyou issued a few weeks ago.

The decision of Secretary Taft, when United States circuit judge in 1893, is perhaps the most conspicuous authority relied upon by the court of appeals in rendering its decision. Secretary Taft in the case in question declared that no one had a right to label a mixture so as to deceive the public into thinking that it was an unadulterated whiskey.

Not Like Substances.

One of the pivotal questions decided by President Roosevelt and Attorney General Bonaparte last May was that whiskey and neutral spirits were not like substances, and in the decision the court of appeals legally declares that they are not like substances, which point alone seems to conclude the pending test case against Clark & company in favor of the government's contentions. The court also decides that Bourbon whiskey can only be made in the state of Kentucky and must be made from a mash, the chief ingredient of which is corn.

The rectifiers have defied the rulings of Secretary Wilson, the president and Attorney General Bonaparte and the food and drugs board on the ground that these rulings had never stood the test of the courts, and might be upset when put to the test. The rulings of Secretary Cortelyou in May, throwing the entire machinery of the revenue bureau into cooperation with the pure food law and previous official rulings made thereunder, were said to have threatened to put an end to the rectifiers' defiance, but the decision seems to have taken the last pretext away from them, and the government officials now expect to strictly enforce the law throughout the whole country on the question of whiskey.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

the history of this trade mark case, from which a solution of the whole whiskey controversy seems to have so quietly and completely evolved. Is that the department of the interior through the examiner of trade mark interferences and the commissioner of patents had virtually recognized any sort of mixture as eligible to registration under the name of whiskey, and had rendered an opinion to that effect almost at the very time that President Roosevelt and Attorney General Bonaparte made the famous rulings against such mixtures.

It is said that the commissioner of patents saw the Bonaparte rulings to late to comply therewith and this case went to the court of appeals presenting the anomalous attitude on the part of the department of the interior as opposing the official rulings on the question of whiskey which had been promulgated by the government itself, through the re-operation of the department of justice, the department of agriculture, the department of the treasury and the department of commerce and labor. It is said that neither the commissioner of patents, the examiner of interferences, nor Secretary Garfield, had in any way intended to openly oppose the position of the president and the other co-ordinate departments of the government.

All Now in Accord.

The court reversed the commissioner of patents and throws the department of the interior into accord with the rest of the government on the question of "what is whiskey?" The court's decision explains that the trade mark act will not permit the department of the interior to pass for registration any trade mark which has been used "with a design of deceiving the public in the purchase of merchandise."

"In this case," says the court, "the record conclusively shows that the applicant, Tri & company, was not entitled to the exclusive use of the mark because of misleading and deceptive statements contained on their label. It was the purpose of the act to protect honest manufacturers and dealers, because in so doing the public would in turn be protected. It was not the purpose of the act to recognize the right of any person, firm or corporation, to deceive the public."
"In other words," says the court, "the government will not become a party to a fraud." In the case decided a rectifier named Tri sold a mixture of neutral spirits, whiskey, caramel coloring matter, head oil and prune juice as "Pure Old Rye Whiskey."

EVERYBODY WORKED.

Even Father to Revoke St. Louis City Administration.

St. Louis, Mo., June 1.—More than 400 residents of Schiller place, more than half of that number women, worked all day yesterday grading a street 1 1/2 blocks long.

They had tried vainly to induce the city to do the work, and, tired of waiting, they decided to do the work themselves. At 6 a. m. the women and every child old enough to be of service joined the men, with shovels, hoes and picks.

By 10 o'clock the effect of the steady work was shown by two perfectly formed gullies, the length of 20 city blocks. At noon the women quit long enough to serve coffee and sandwiches, then went back to work and stayed on the job until 6 p. m.

A BOY'S HOLIDAYS.

The ardent controversy which has been waged in English and America concerning the best way to dispose of school boys in the long summer vacation has prompted the Grand Trunk Railway system to issue a special publication giving suggestions and practical hints to parents, as to what to do with the public and preparatory school boy during the months of July and August. The vacation camp is one of the solutions and the publication entitled, "What shall a Boy do with his Vacation" thoroughly covers the ground and solves the problem of the best way for a schoolboy to enjoy his holidays.

TO HOLD FOUR IN COTTON LEAKS

Warrants Charging Conspiracy Issued and Two Men Surrender.

Washington, June 4.—Bench warrants were issued today for Theodore H. Price, of New York, a cotton operator; E. S. Holmes, Jr., former statistician of the department of agriculture; Moses Haas and Frederick A. Peckham, both of New York, charging them with conspiracy. The warrants are in the government cotton report leak cases and were issued for the purpose of causing the arrest of the New York men and their return to this jurisdiction for trial.

New York, June 4.—Moses Haas and Frederick A. Peckham, who were indicted with Theodore H. Price on charges of conspiracy and bribery in connection with the cotton report leak rendered themselves to the government authorities.

When Haas and Peckham appeared before Judge Chatfield in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court Haas was required to furnish $10,000 bail. It was then understood that the grand jury had found four indictments against Haas, Peckham's bond was fixed at $5,000. Both men were instructed to be in court again on June 10.

Three More Prizes

One month from this evening and it will all be over—what are you going to do in those thirty days? Hustle and win, or plod along and bring up in the rear. Will you on the eventful evening of the 4th be one of the fortunate prize winners, one of the lucky fifteen—no, one of the lucky eighteen, because we are going to add three more excellent prizes to the already long list of valuable gifts. Watch tomorrow's paper for the announcement of these additional prizes, ranging in value from $50 to $100, three prizes any one of which you may have been waiting for some time past; three that mean much to the winners not only for the present but for years to come; three that will give the winners an opportunity to acquire assets that will be valuable to them all through life.

Aim High and Win.

A candidate called up last evening and asked to be dropped from the contest. This candidate was only a couple of thousand votes behind the district leader; one yearly subscription would have put the candidates in the lead. Discouraged because one or two others were a few votes ahead; the one had turned in a subscription and the other hadn't, one had worked, the other had not loafed. There are just two qualifications of candidates in this contest, one is sticktoitiveness, the other discouragement; the first is going to win, the second is going to lose, in this or any other contest. Stick to it for four weeks, but in every good lick you can and you won't be discouraged.

Are you watching the list? Do you know the standing of each candidate in your district? Has any one forged ahead of you since the last count? Some of the candidates are voting the limit this week. Several turned in enough votes yesterday to put them a bit ahead. Are you one of them? Only three have passed the 20,000 mark but there are others that are running a close race.

Who's Who in the Contest.

Miss Elsie Hodge still leads with 22,020 votes, while Miss Ella Hill holds second place with 22,117, but the third place has changed hands. Miss Carrie Childs, of Metropolis, Ill., polled a large number of votes yesterday and passed A. C. Hargrove, Paducah R. F. D., and now ranks third with 20,410, less than 3,000 votes behind the leader. Then there are six others in the neighborhood of 18,000, a score who have over 10,000 votes.

Several new candidates have entered the field and from the votes they are turning in, have entered in win. Notably among these is Miss Ruby Plack, of Mayfield, who entered under District No. 3 on Wednesday and now stands seventh in a list of over thirty in her district. Miss Plack is one of Mayfield's most charming and popular young ladies, and in a contest held there last year won the first prize by a large margin of 25,237 votes.

Other out of town candidates who are doing good work are Miss Carrie Childs of Metropolis, Miss Lara Street of Ky., Miss Vera Dodson of La Center, Arthur Switzer and J. H. Dogger, of Paducah R. F. D. In districts No. 1 and No. 2 within the city, Miss Hodge and Miss Hill for the first district, and Miss Nichols, Miss Vaughn and Mr. Stewman for the second, are leading. They are closely followed in their respective districts by Miss Noble, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Ashby, Mr. Ratcliffe and Mr. Desberger. And there are many others that can go to the top of the list by polling the votes that would come from one yearly subscription.

The Race Is Young.

The race is young and not won by any means. Many think they can pick the winner but there's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip and like any race, there's many a quarter horse that's not good for a mile and many a mile horse that makes no showing until the last quarter. A spurt now and a spurt then loses many a race while a good steady runner stays with the bunch and wins, if only by a nose. Over ninety entries for this big race and grand prizes for the first seventeen to cross under the wire on the eventful 4th, as well as prizes at every quarter post at the end of each week. Prizes for over twenty per cent of the contestants—a big stake for one short race.

Just a little time and just a little work. Prizes for hustlers but none for those who shirk. Eighteen dandy prizes for candidates who try. And as many smiling faces on the 4th of July.

The Paducah Sun's Great Popularity Contest began with the official announcement on May 23 and will close on the great national holiday, July 4. That makes exactly six weeks. There will be no extension of the time of the contest. When it's over it's over, and the happy, lucky ones will be laughing home deeds for real estate, orders for fine furniture, rare jewels and a bunch of other things.

Who Are Eligible?

Any white person, man or woman, of good character, residing in the territory covered by The Sun may become a candidate for the honors and prizes in The Paducah Sun's Greatest Popularity Contest.

Duration—Awards.

The contest starts with today's announcement and will continue till July 4, at 9 p. m., at which time a committee of well-known and trustworthy citizens will be chosen to determine who are entitled to the prizes.

Districts.

The territory covered by The Sun has been divided for the purposes of this contest into three districts, as follows:

District 1 comprises all of the city of Paducah north of Broadway, including the north side of Broadway.

District 2 comprises all of the city of Paducah south of Broadway, including the south side of Broadway.

District 3 comprises all of the territory served by The Sun outside the limits of the city of Paducah.

More Than $2,000 in Prizes.

Following is a description of the magnificent list of prizes offered for the winners in this contest together with the arrangement governing their distribution.

The candidate securing the highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The First Grand Prize, a $700 double building lot in Gregory Heights, Paducah's prettiest suburb.

The candidate securing the second highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The Second Grand Prize, a $100.00 two-carat, blue-white diamond, on display at Jo Wolff's jewelry store, 327 Broadway.

After the judges of the finish of the contest have awarded the Grand Prizes, the names of the two winners will be stricken from the list of contestants and the nine district prizes will be awarded as follows:

The three persons who lead their respective districts will be awarded a $500 piano, on display at W. T. Miller & Bros., 529 Broadway, a $150 suit of furniture, displayed at Garner Bros., 297-213 South Third, a $100 buggy and harness, displayed at Powell-Rogers, 129-131 North Third. The above three prizes will be given to the three district leaders in the order of the number of votes credited to them.

The three persons who receive the second highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes in their order of rank: a $55 watch on display at Pollock's, 333 Broadway, a $50 lady's or man's watch at Nagel and Meyer's, corner Third and Broadway, a $50 Miller range, displayed at Hank Bros., 212 Broadway.

The three persons receiving the third highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes: a $37.50 refrigerator, displayed at Henninger's, 422 Broadway, a $25 chair or other furniture from Rhodes-Hurford's, 112-116 North Fourth, a $25 lady's or man's watch on display at J. L. Wanner's, 311 Broadway.

In addition the management of The Sun will spend $100 in special prizes to be distributed to lucky candidates during the progress of the contest, making a grand total of more than $2,000 in prizes, to be distributed gratis.

Table of Values.

Besides the coupons which are printed daily in The Sun and which are good for the number of votes printed on them if voted before the time limit stated, contestants may secure subscription votes according to the following schedule:

For Payment in Advance By Old Subscribers.
Time	By Carrier	By Mail	Votes
1 year	$1.50	$3.00	2,253
8 months	3.00	2.00	1,200
1 month	1.50	1.00	500
2 years	9.00	6.00	6,000

For Advance Payment by New Subscribers.
Time	By Carrier	By Mail	Votes
1 year	$1.50	$3.00	4,500
8 months	3.00	2.00	2,400
4 months	1.50	1.00	1,000
2 years	9.00	6.00	12,000

Subscription payments of less than $1.00 by mail and $1.50 by carrier, will not be accepted as counting for votes.

No employee of The Sun or member of an employee's family will be allowed to enter this contest.

The Sun is the final arbiter in all questions that may arise in connection with the contest. Candidates by entering agree to these published conditions.

The right is reserved to alter these rules should necessity demand.

Contestants may secure subscriptions anywhere they wish. For instance a candidate in District 2 is entitled to turn in subscriptions from day address and say I do not give to them a place in history as high as that given him by any of his contemporaries.

Now subscribers are those who were not taking The Sun May 23, the date of the start of the contest. Transfer from one member of a family to another or to someone else living in the same house will not be counted as a new subscription.

Voting Limit.

Until June 4 no candidate will be allowed to cast more than 5,000 credited votes in any one day.

Address all communications to The Sun, Contest Department.

TAFT DISTRESSED

BECAUSE OF ATTACK ON HIS MEMORIAL DAY SPEECH.

Attempt to Make Political Capital of His Remarks By His Opponents.

Washington, June 1.—Secretary of War William H. Taft, when apprised that comment had been made by his reference in his Memorial day address in New York to Gen. Grant's resignation from the army before the Civil war, made the following statement:

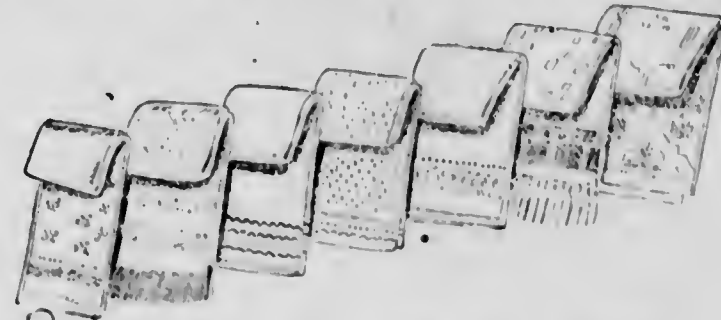

"I am very much distressed that anything I have said should be construed to be an attack on Gen. Grant's memory. I yield to no man in my admiration for Gen. Grant, in my high estimate of the remarkable qualities and character and of the great debt that the nation owes him. In my memorial address I attributed his resignation from the army in 1851 to his weakness for strong drink, because from Mr. Garland's life of Gen. Grant and from other evidence, I supposed it was undoubtedly true. I referred to the matter only because it seemed to me that it was one of the greatest victories of his life that he subsequently overcame this weakness."

"The wonder of his life was that with all the discouragements that he encountered before the Civil war, including this, he became the nation's chief instrument in suppressing the

QUEEN SELLS AIRPLANE PAIR.

Italian Divergence Present When Delage Aircraft Is Broken.

Rome, June 3.—The experiment of Leon Delage, the French aeronaut before the Queen Divergence, and a few invited guests here, came to nothing, through a mishap to the machine. M. Delage, started magnificently and began to fly rapidly and smoothly, but after going about 800 yards the airplane suddenly fell to the ground from a height of six feet. The accident was caused by something going wrong with the motor, and the fall, injured the machine so that it was impossible to continue the experiment.

The odds are all against the woman who marries for the purpose of getting even.
